

A message from the Co-Chairs

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to join us in Tel Aviv, Israel, for the 7th Annual International IARPP Conference entitled "The Shadow of Memory: Relational Perspectives on Remembering and Forgetting." We invite you to participate with us, whether as clinicians, private citizens or as national groupings, as we engage the dilemma and complexity of remembering and forgetting. We invite you to join with us as we consider how we cling to our memories even as we seek to sequester them, deny them or rework them. We invite you to ponder with us about the ways we relate to others, how we conceive of these others, and how these representations, at times of crisis and trauma, can assume a shadowy essence that serves to protect, deny, or disengage from that which feels too painful to bear. We invite you to participate in a courageous dialogue about the power of connection and mutual recognition, about intersubjectivity and integration, about remembering and letting go.

Our conference takes place at the beautiful David Intercontinental Hotel that is located at the border of Tel Aviv - Jaffa. The city of Tel Aviv, which celebrates its 100 year anniversary at this time, is one of the liveliest cities in the world. Its preponderance of Bauhaus architecture has it named as a UNESCO Heritage site. Amidst the bustle of the reconstructions emerging out of this UNESCO recognition you will also encounter a modern city steeped in a complex and multilayered past and recent history. The name Jaffa or Yafo is most probably a western Semitic one, being related to the Hebrew word yafah, which signifies "beautiful" or agreeable. There are several legends about the origin of the name Jaffa. Some say it is named for Japheth, one of the sons of Noah, who built it after the Great Flood.

The recent history of Israel meets it both as a conflict area between Jews and Arabs and as the home of Jews, Arabs, Armenian and Christians living in coexistence. This is emblematic of our intended plea for dialogue – a true dialogue amongst us all that we hope can advance and deepen our perspectives and understanding. We hope that the experience we offer you with our invited and chosen speakers from the international IARPP community at this particular place and in these particular times of turbulence, will highlight the dialectics of remembering and forgetting, of despair, crisis and hope. We are sure that the experience you encounter will be unforgettable.

The Hosting City

About Tel Aviv

Tel Aviv, the first Hebrew town in Israel is the economic and cultural capital of Israel, and celebrates 100 years anniversary this year. The City will celebrate this milestone with worldwide events reflecting Tel Aviv's unique place in history, as the first Hebrew city established. The unique Bauhaus building style of Tel Aviv has earned it the "white city" title and from 2003, a world heritage site by Unesco. Enrich yourself with the building culture and historical assets of the first Hebrew city. The story of Tel Aviv is interwoven with the revival of modern Israel itself.

Jaffa – the ancient city of Tel Aviv is the home of Jews, Arabs, Armenian and Christians living in coexistence. Enjoy the special aromas and fragrances, beautiful stone buildings, narrow winding alleys, a fishermen's port, artists' quarter, cafés, restaurants and shops. Jaffa is rich culturally and artistically and home of national Theatres and festivals.

But Tel Aviv is not just history. Present day Tel Aviv is one of the liveliest cities you will come across. Enjoy a very rich night life scene. Whether you are into clubbing, restaurants, coffee shops, or bars, Tel Aviv has something for you.

The David InterContinental

Overlooking the blue Mediterranean and located on the beachfront. Adjacent to the heart of the city's commerce and entertainment districts the hotel is a perfect choice for both business and leisure travelers. The hotel is surrounded by history with a modern twist. The vibrant neighborhood of Neve Zedek, which has become and is continuing to develop into an Israeli SoHo with the Suzanne Dellal Center for the Arts within the quaint alleys of the quarter. Further to the south is old Jaffa with its flea markets and unique archeological sites. Across the road is the colorful Carmel market adjacent to Shenkin Rd., the Israeli "Melrose". All these attractions with their outdoor cafes, colorful arts and crafts centers and seaside promenade are within easy walking distance from the hotel.

 Preface to the large group

The large group provides an opportunity to experience and explore the subjective and inter-subjective meanings of being a part of a group, a culture and a society. A conference in the Middle East and in Israel may arouse a variety of emotions and attitudes concerning socio-political conflicts. Issues of power and submission, affiliation and exclusion, hostility and reconciliation may become a part of our participation in the large group. The large group provides a space for expressing different views, attitudes and conflicts and hopefully helps us in the task towards mutual recognition and a better co-existence of differences and similarities. Any expression of subjectivity may serve as a revelation of 'a voice' that is a part of the whole group. Whatever is said in the large group may express an unacknowledged aspect of others. The role of the conductors is to hold the large group by time keeping and by facilitating talking and listening. The conductors sometimes may aim at deciphering some sub-conscious themes that may be unrecognized in the group.
